OFFICE OF CURRENT INTELLIGENCE
INTELLIGENCE SUPPORT FOR THE PRESIDENT

22 February to 6 March 1960

1. During the President's trip, from 22 February to 6 March 1960, the Agency will send him four intelligence briefings on dates [as] indicated in the attached table. These briefings will be normally limited in coverage to major world developments and significant developments in the area in which the President is traveling. The Central Intelligence Bulletin will not be sent.

2. With one exception, these will be the only briefings sent unless an emergency situation should arise. The exception is on 28 February when a briefing on the situation in Panama will be sent to Santiago so that it will be available for General Goodpaster when the presidential party arrives that day. Any cables on emergency situations should be sent, subject in each instance to AD/CI approval, with an immediate evaluation if this is possible, or with a note to the effect that the material in question is raw intelligence and that an evaluation will follow.

3. The scheduled intelligence briefings will be drafted in O/CI by the Cable SIDO on the basis of contributions submitted by O/CI divisions, O/NE, and other offices as appropriate. Contributions may be of any classification, including special intelligence, although the finished briefing will normally not carry a classification more restrictive than Top Secret; in effect this means that the contributions should be based on all-source intelligence, but should not include specific citation of special intelligence material unless essential.

4. After the briefings have been drafted by the Cable SIDO, they will be reviewed by the AD/CI, a representative of O/NE, and, as appropriate, a representative of DD/P.

7. Deadlines for the submission of contributions to the Cable SIDO, the times of review meetings, and the deadlines for the filing of cables are shown in the attached table. Any revisions of this table will receive the same distribution as this notice. Contributions should be submitted to the Cable SIDO in advance of the deadlines whenever possible, and the Cable SIDO should be kept informed at all times of the subjects on which contributions are being prepared. The Cable SIDO will keep O/NE advised of the contributions being prepared in O/CI, and the O/CI divisions advised of any contributions being prepared in O/NE.
